PETERSBURGER'S

Residents Along the Richmond and Petersburg Electric Line Complain of Avance in Rates.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)
PETERSBURG, VA., March 24.—The first session of the fifth blennial Epworth League conference of Virginia was held to-night at/ Washington Street Methodist Church, which was profusely decorated with paims and league colors. The number of delegates is double that of last session, Rev. E. T. Dadmun, of Ashland, prosided, with Ishman R. Dyer secretary. The meeting opened with devotional exercises by Rev. B. Lipscomb, D. D., presiding elder of Potersburg district. The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. W. G. Starr, D. D., and was re-sponded to by President Dadmun, Rev. W. J. Young, of Centenary Church, Richmond, delivered an address on "Is the League Meeting the Needs of Our

the League Meeting the Needs of Odr Young People?"

The address was practical, enthusiastic and eloquont and held the audience speli-bound for an hour.

Prayer was offered by Rev. J. C. Reed, D. D., and benediction was pronounced by Rev. W. G. Starr, D. D. TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

TOOK HIS OWN LIFE.

D. Robertson Dunlon, until recently a resident of Petersburg, committed suicide yesterday morning at the Phoenx Hotel, Lexington, Ky, where his parents reside. Mr. Dunlon was engaged in the teal estate and brokerage business in Washington, D. C., until last October, when he went to Lynchburg, Va. A short while ago he left Lynchburg, and reaching Lexington, Ky, three days ago took up quarters at a hotel. When found yesterday he was dead with a half filled philoroform bottle and a revolver. The young man had fired one bullet through his temple and death was apparently instantaneous. Mr. Dunlop was thirty-two years of age and had many friends in Petersburg, to whom the news of his rash act was a shock. act was a shock.

WARRIOR HOME. Sergeant R. B. Bullock, after serving three years in the United States army, returned to his home in Petersburg to-day with his honorable discharge. Sergeant Bullock was attached to Company C, Twenty-seventh Infantry, and participated in five engagements, coming of without injury. For the last two years he has been stationed in the Philippine 1s-lands,

The census enumerators recently ap-pointed to get the true population of Petersburg have about finished their task, and the results of their work will be and the results of their work will be known within a few days. The census will show an appreciable increase in the last census of the city.

One of the enumerators yesterday came jacross a colored woman on West Street ramed Jane Lawton, who gave her age is 11? She was very feeble, almost deaf and nearly billid.

KICK AGAINST RATES.

MICK AGAINST RATES.

Many residents along the line of the Richmond and Petersburg Electric Railway are protesting against the proposed increase in price of fares, which it is said will be effective April 1st. As any increase in fares along the line would affect many persons employed both in Petersburg and Richmond, formal protest to the proper authorities will likely result.

They Have Got It in for Agnew Faction and One or the Other Must Take a Back Seat.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) PENNINGTON GAP, LEE CO., VA., March 24.-The Louisville and Nashville Railroad Company, in connection with the Black Mountain Railway Company, are building a road of some eight miles from this place into the Pocket country coal fields. These roads now have their grading almost done, and it is said they will begin track laying about the first coal fields. These reads now have their grading almost done, and it is said they will begin track laying about the first of May next. The construction of this road is developing the county more than the building of the Louisville and Nashville through it. It passes through some of the best steam, gas and coke coals and timbors in this end of the State. It is said this road is the beginning of a railroad into the coal fields of Eastern Kentucky.

SLEMP'S FENCES.

W. M. Slemp, son of Congressman Slemp, of this district, was here to-day, it is said, in the interest of his fathor's political fences. He has been closeted most of the day with prominent Republicans of the day and he would gag him as father would sooner or later, "down" the Agnew gang, and he would gag him as badily as his father was gaged at Norfolk on the 3d instant.

He says there is no affinity between Eastern and Southwestern Virginia Republicans, and that one or the other must soon take a back seat.

DWBILLING BURNS.

The dwelling house of D. S. Forister, of this place, with all its contents, was burned this morning about 3 o'clock. The occupants of the house woke to find the flames hovering over them. They barely escaped with their lives. The house fell within five minutes after the family got out of it. Nothing was saved. No insurance on either house or furniture. Loss about $1,000. It was a severe loss to Mr. Forister., It was his all. He began life some three or four years ago, with but a few dollars, in buying and selling staves, and this house and his furniture were his savings.

It is currently reported that a good many of the negroes working on the new railroad have recently had the smallpox. The contractors say they now have it under control, and the further spread of the disease has been reduced to a minimum, and its spread need not be feared. No deaths have been reported from it. It is in a very mild form.

STILL A MYSTERY.

The body of D. Paul Hughes, the Pittsburg man who committed suicide here Monday, was, by direction of the local Masons, sent this afternoon to Pylsville, Hartford county, Md. There is apparently still some mystery surrounding the case, but the local Masons, who seem to be about the only persons who know anything at all definite on the subject, will not talk, their whole aim seeming to be to hush up the scandal attached to the case.

W. C. Booker, of Newport News, appeared at the police station to-day saying he had come to Norfolk as a idetective representing the family of the young woman who was found here with Hughes. Her real name he gave as Mrs, Gibson, the daughter of wealthy English parents, formerly residents of Nelson county, Va. The girl, he said, had also been known as Edna Haynes Booker. He claimed to have been at Old Point Comfort looking for the young woman, and, being thrown on the wrong track, went North as far as Rochester in search of her. He declared that he was in Richmond last night.

BANKS CONSOLIDATE.

The sequel to the acquisition by Henry L. Schmelz and associates of the capital stock of the Citizens Bank, of Norfolk, will, in all probability, be the consolidation of that bank with the National Bank of Commerce.

will, in all probability, be the consolidation of that bank with the National Bank of Commerce.

The big bull movement in Citizens' Bank stock has eventuated in the control by Mr. Schmelz and his friends, the Doyle estate of Norfolk, that of Kensey Johns and C. D. Kenny, the late Baltimore millionaire, and other interests identified with the National Bank of Norfolk. This means a consolidation of these banks, and that at an early date.

As a result of the deal, the great building that was to have been erected on the corner of Main and Atlantic Streets by the National Bank of Commerce, which recently adquired the control of the City National Bank, may never be built. The magnificent home of the Citizens will likely be used as the banking house of the three consolidated institutions.

President Nathaniel Beaman, of the National Bank of Commerce, said this afternoon that it is probable that the consolidation will take place at an early date.

He declared that although the Schmelz Interests of Hampton, which are iden-tified with his bank, have acquired the control of the Citizens, it was done for the National Bank of Commerce, and the control of the consolidated banks will remain vested in the hands of Norfolk

The plans in detail have not yet been made public, but they contemplate a million dollar institution. CLAIM THE HONOR.

Governor Montague is expected to take some suitable action with regard to honoring at the launching of the battleship Virginia of the representatives of Fort Nelson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, of Portsmouth. This chapter was the pioneer in the effort to have one of the most formidable battleships in the navy named for the old Mother State As long ago as 1899, the chapter took action on this question. At a meeting held on December 7, 1899, the formal request was made of the city's representative in the General Assembly to introduce a resolution asking Congress to name one of the battleships of the navy for Virginia.

ginia. In response to the request of the chap-ter, the late M. S. Newberne, at that time representative in the House of Delegates from Portsmouth, introduced time representative in the House of Edegates from Portamouth, introduced a joint resolution, which reclied the claims of the State to the distinction of possessing a namesake in the new mayy and this was passed.

It was as the result of this formal representation on the part of the State that Secretary Long, of the Navy Department, designaled the great ship of what is known as the Georgia class, which was to be laid down at Newport News, to be called the Yirginia.

There opposite the spot where her namesake, the first of all the iron-clads of the words, was abandoned and destroyed after her victories, this later Virginia, the most magnificent vessel of her class in the navy, and perhaps, in the world, has grown into being.

The part played by Fort Nelson Chapter in the naming of the ship is not generally known. It is believed that the Committee of Arrangements at Newport News and the Governor are as yet unaware of the facts in the case. When they do learn them, however, it is more than probable that the chapter will be accorded the recognition due its services in this regard.

The ladies of the chapter are not seeking any laurels for the part they played in the selection of the great battleship's honored name. It has only just developed that they really caused the Navy Department to act, however, and in view of the preparations that are being made to make the launching a most notable event, the facts are recalled at this time as interesting.
